OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 16.—A wall of water released by the breaking of the bank of the city reservoir swept down the North Canadian River valley into Oklahoma City today, flooding scores of homes in lowland districts. Flood waters rushed seven feet within 30 minutes after the torrent was released by the reservoir breaking. Ambulances, fire department automobiles and heavy trucks roared through the streets at midnight with sirens shrieking, warning the people of the oncoming flood.

Fifteen thousand persons poured from their homes in the lowlands of the southern sections of the city during the dark hours of the early morning and rushed to the high ground on the north side. The mayor ordered a district of more than 100 city blocks vacated when the reservoir waters broke from control.

Steady streams of pedestrians, women carrying young children, husbands and older children lugging heavily packed bundles of clothing and food, hurried through the congested streets. Many were in tears as they left their dwellings.

On order of Governor J. C. Walton, national guardmen were ordered into the vacated district to protect homes against looters. Ambulances took the sick and aged to hospitals which were crowded to capacity. All extra street cars were put into service to aid in transporting the refugees to safe sections of the city.

Added to the flood menace was the threat of a water famine. With its main reservoir gone, only emergency tanks remained and it was feared these supplies would be quickly exhausted. Fear was expressed that the river, which normally makes a horse-shoe bend around the business district, might cut a channel through the main street.

Oklahoma City has experienced numerous floods, and this spring causing damage of $15,000,000, but today's broke all records. The business district has never been flooded but warning was sent to merchants that the waters might reach the main business blocks. Store owners plugged basement windows and moved merchandise to the top floors.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 16.—A gale which has reached 48 miles an hour at the mouth of the Mississippi struck southern Louisiana today. Storm warnings have been lowered and observers believe the danger has been passed.

Residents of the Red River valley lowlands have been warned to move all livestock in preparation for an expected recent flood.

MORE RAIN PROMISED BY WEATHER BUREAU

Following the drop in the thermometer yesterday morning, which was accompanied by a rain during the early forenoon, the weather cleared again today, bright warm sunshine sending the mercury back to summer temperatures. At 11 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 72 degrees.

The noon weather forecast today predicted increasing cloudiness tonight, possibly accompanied by showers.

Drivers of automobiles had difficulty and many complained about machines parked along curbs in the residential district without a head or tail light burning. There were some narrow escapes from collisions reported. By morning, however, the fog curtain had lifted.

By United Press.
BERLIN, Oct. 16.—Five thousand hungry unemployed stormed the main city hall near Alexanderplatz today in one of the most menacing demonstrations since the food shortage became so acute.

At least 10 are known to have been wounded when police cordons advanced on the mob and drove the mob during the demonstrators back five blocks from the building. Still determined, the crowds rushed to the house where bookers were seen hurriedly leaving and seeking refuge in the less conspicuous places. Within strange was closed as a precautionary measure. Disturbances were reported in several suburbs.

Policemen at hand were helpless against the hungry crowds and occupation troops had to be called out, using handbills and firing shot into the air to clear the streets. The timely arrest of leaders prevented serious consequences from food riots in Berlin.

The Krafors grain exchange closed after threat had been made against the grain operators. As an example to the country President Ebert notified the treasurer he would relinquish all his expense money for October. His salary for this month was fixed at 150 million marks and his expenses were to be about four million marks. His resignation is considered to be a great sacrifice, as despite the fact that the people's income barely covers his needs.

Food riots brought frequent clashes between mobs and police throughout the country today. Shots fired over the heads of a hundred unemployed in the northern section of Berlin dispersed them without bloodshed.

In the suburb of Schoenberg police fired their bayonets, prepared to charge, when 500 unemployed attacked city hall in their demands for advance payment of the unemployment benefit dole. Crowds here later bakeries and looted them for bread.

At least, in anticipation of this, he will go to practice to get into condition.

Fearing the strenuous game might not be well for the injured head, he was refused the consent of his father, Dr. G. H. Edmunds, to play. His presence has been missed on the team. However, he will be allowed to work out to get into condition and it is considered the strain will not have serious consequences, he may get to play before the schedule is completed.

MOVEMENT FOR BRIDGE OVER YOUGH AT SOUTH CONNELLVILLE REVIVED

A new movement looking toward the construction of a bridge over the Youghiogheeny River at South Connellsville was launched by Burgess William G. Ketter of South Connellsville at a meeting of town council Monday evening. The time is proposed for the bridge is a public necessity is not denied, he added.

Burgess Ketter proposed that there be a joint meeting of council and the school board with citizens at which a committee be named to foster the movement and to seek the cooperation of the Kiwanis Club, the Rotary Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Youghiogheeny Automobile Club and other organizations of Connellsville that would be benefited by a new and more direct route to Uniontown and the National Pike.

It was decided that the matter should be agitated until the next meeting of council when further steps toward a public effort will be taken up.

Councilman William Griffiths, member of a committee named some time ago to get some facts about the proposed bridge, said he had visited the offices of the West Penn System in Pittsburgh and had learned that there is little prospect of setting the company to go along because of the high cost. It was said estimates secured by the West Penn placed the cost at $700,000.

Conjecture has had it that the West Penn might connect its line to South Connellsville with the main line at Fayette and thus provide a shorter route to Uniontown. At the present time the only use the bridge would be to the West Penn, it was pointed out, would be for employees traveling to and from the power plant.

IMMUNIZATION IS MAKING PROGRESS

The work of immunizing children against diphtheria is making excellent progress in Fayette county. Already four centers have been established where the toxin-antitoxin treatment is being administered. The first was at Lambert where many children of the employees of the U. S. Fred Coke Company were treated.

The second was at Dunbar where 63 children have received all of the three injections comprising the treatment and without any unpleasant after effects of any kind. At Monaca 74 children have been given the first injection. At Allison works of W. J. Rathney, Inc., 120 children are now ready to receive the second injection. The company's nurse is arranging for parental consent being secured for children at all the plants of this interest.

A second group of children is being formed at Dunbar to whom the first injection will be given upon a date to be announced later. Parents can obtain the necessary blanks and information by calling at the baby clinic on Friday of this week or applying to Miss Mary B. Allen, state nurse, or to Miss Mary Priel, nurse for the American Manganese Manufacturing Company.

Throughout the State many hundreds of school children have been immunized during the past year. It was not until the past summer that the free treatment was extended to children from six months to six years, or not yet of school age.

FIGHT FOR SEWER EXTENSION TO BE CONTINUED 22ND

Special Meeting of South Connellsville Council Called For Final Action.

PETITIONS CIRCULATED

Four Hundred Signers Said to Have Been Secured for Laying Track to McCormick Avenue; Cut in Hamp at Allegheny Avenue Proposed.

Because of the absence of three members of South Connellsville Council from the meeting scheduled for last evening, definite action on the controversy as to how far south the sewer trunk being constructed shall extend was held over until October 22, which was specified by the four members present as the time for a special session to discuss the problem and take final action. The absentees were President W. S. Trevitt, Al. R. Urbach and S. B. Miller.

Henry T. Robinson, who had been absent at previous meetings when the matter was up, appeared at his place. He was quoted as saying the original plan for the sewer provided that it be laid as far south as McCormick avenue, which is at the extreme south end of the town. Later, he said, Park avenue was discussed. The point is at the entrance to the for Solson Park at Brick Store.

Along with a petition signed by 200 persons, presented by W. R. Hammer, and asking that the line be extended to McCormick avenue, there was submitted a proposal that the main be lowered at Allegheny avenue so as to provide gravity flow over the "knuckle" to the downtown outlet. This, it was estimated, would necessitate a cut of 15 feet for a distance of 150 feet, more or less. A seven foot cut was already necessary to take care of properties at that point, it was said. Another petition for extension to McCormick avenue is being circulated and will have around 200 names it was said.

Councilman William Griffith presented, in the absence of President Trevitt.

A meeting of the Committee of Twelve, of which W. R. Hammer is chairman, has been called for tonight to lay plans for the fight before council the night of October 22. The meeting will be at the store of J. J. Evans.

Dry leaders announced, following their visit to the White House, that they had not the "slightest shadow" of a doubt where President Coolidge stood, intimating they had received assurance from some source that he would be "bone dry" and 100 per cent for enforcement of the prohibition law as it stands.

Former Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas, militant dry leader of the Middle West, replying to Mr. Pinchot, declared the state should exhaust all of its own resources before bringing the problem of enforcement to the doorstep of the White House, and called on Pinchot to use his constabulary and, if necessary, the National Guard to make the law effective in Pennsylvania, at the same time expressing faith in President Coolidge's determination to enforce the law.

Governor Allen of "Henry and Me" fame, himself among the outstanding dry leaders of the country, took Pinchot to task in friendly but emphatic language.

Civil War Veteran Wants Everyone to Know of His Discovery

Dreco Conquers Age Relieves Stomach and Liver Troubles and Rheumatism. Made New Man of Him.

Each year the ranks of the veterans of the Civil War grow thinner. From the millions of a half century ago their number had dwindled to thousands. To be able to lengthen the lives of these men who added to building this country into one great nation is one of Dreco's proudest feats.

Mr. J. F. Whippley, an eighty-two year old resident of South Connelleville, Pa., a veteran of the Civil War, was a physical wreck. His body was contorted and twisted by pains of rheumatism. His stomach and liver refused to function properly, throwing his system into a dreadful state.

"I have been virtually a wreck for the past few years," says Mr. Whippley. "My rheumatism was so bad that I could hardly lie in bed. Both my stomach and liver were in the worst condition." "I started taking Dreco and it has made a new man of me. All my old troubles have disappeared. I am not bothered with rheumatism and my stomach and liver do not give me the least bit of trouble."

"It is the only medicine for anyone bothered with liver or stomach trouble or rheumatism to take." Many people are being led every day to try this remarkable remedy, by the advice of some friend, or by reading of cases in the papers exactly like their own. Dreco is good for every member of the family.

Dreco is being specially introduced by Connelleville Drug Company and sold by druggists everywhere. Also for sale by Hoffman's Drug Store in Scottdale.—Advertisement.

TODAY I AM REAL WELL

So Writes Woman After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Jamestown, N. Y.—"I was nervous, easily excited and discouraged and had no ambition. Part of the time I was not able to sit up as I suffered with pains in my back and with weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, both the liquid and tablet forms, and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash for inflammation. Today I am real well and run a rooming house and do the work. I recommend your medicine to every woman who complains, and you may use my letter to help any one else. I am passing through the Change of Life now and I keep the Vegetable Compound in the house, ready to take when I feel the need of it."—Mrs. ALICE D. DAVIS, 283 W. Second St., Jamestown, N. Y.

Often some slight derangement may cause a general upset condition of the whole system, indicated by such symptoms as nervousness, headache, lack of ambition and general weakness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine for such troubles. In many cases it has removed the cause of the trouble.

CREATION OF FRENCH RIBBONS AND CHARMEEN

French or novelty ribbons make effective trimming for the tunic dress. Vertical bands of narrow, brightly-colored ribbon form the sole trimming of the waist, while two horizontal bands of wide ribbon alternating with bands of the material form the tunic. There is unusual distinction in a frock of this sort which is appropriate for any but the most formal affair.

DON'T FORGET MY LITTLE BONES!

By MORRIS

COME ACROSS TODAY.
 While very commendable progress has been made in the fourth annual Home Service Fund appeal for the local corps of the Salvation Army,
 it is evident that a very considerable number of persons have not yet made their subscriptions. It is known that many were not at home when the solicitors made their calls on Sunday afternoon and that several of the important outlying districts have not yet submitted their reports. With approximately one-half of the budget provided at this time there are indications that within the next few days
 the remainder will be forthcoming.
 No campaign has been more completely organized and the details arranged with greater care than the present one. Chairman Paolo has displayed extraordinary industry and has devoted long hours to the work.
 His assistants have been helpful to him but neither Chairman Paolo nor his staff can do everything essential to the largest success of the undertaking.
 Persons who have not subscribed should realize this fact and have some appreciation of the sacrifice of time the workers have been making. Do not wait to be called upon. Place yourself in touch with some team captain or headquarters and turn your subscription in without delay. The longer this is deferred the greater effort will be required by the campaign organization to complete their work. This will be a bit unfair to the men who are giving so much time and effort to putting the drive across. Don't ask them to make still further sacrifice. Come across with your subscription today.

DESERVES SUPPORT AND ENCOURAGEMENT.
 The editor of The Courier has a due sense of appreciation of the compliment paid this paper by The Fayette County Fish and Game Protective Association through its president, H. L. Krepps, in the following communication:
 Conneltsville, Penna.,
 Oct. 13, 1923.
 Editor The Courier,
 Dear Sir:—
 We, as an Association, wish to express to you our appreciation and thanks for the splendid and timely editorial appearing in The Courier of Wednesday, October 10
 under the title of "A Game Refuge."
 You struck the key-note in the first line of this article. We are lovers of the open not so much because it contains the fish and game we seek for but because it is the great handiwork of God and the place of all places where the busy, tired and troubled man can go and find rest and recreation.
 We at the present time are working in cooperation with the State Forestry Department to secure better protection for the forests from fire. Owing to certain appropriations not having been made at the last session of the Legislature

It may be necessary to appeal to the people for some financial aid. We feel sure if such an appeal is made the lovers of the open will respond.
 Thanking you for the hearty support you have given us in the work, I am,
 Yours truly,
 H. L. KREPPS, President.
 With this broad program of protection to game and fish and the forests, and its slogan—"Be 100 per cent American—obey the laws and that they are obeyed"—The Fayette County Fish and Game Protective Association deserves and ought to receive the support of all good citizens who, like its members, realize that the time is at hand when organized effort must be made if the abuses in the realm of sports afield are to be curbed and respect for the law in general is to be stimulated.
 Every needed form of encouragement should and doubtless will be given the association in the prosecution of its campaign for game protection and law observance.

The Democratic schemers may have deluded Chief Murphy into pursuit of the will of the wisp independent candidacy for sheriff, but they are not fooling Republicans generally into following in with their plan of fomenting strife and creating factions in the ranks for the purpose of allowing some Democrats to slip into office.

The pastors certainly bawled out
 the Sunday football promoters

The salvation of the Conneltsville district's reputation as a "putter across" on fund drives depends very much on how quickly you send helping to close up the Salvation Army Home Service campaign.

AN OLD FRIEND.

I met an old friend yesterday.
 A comrade from far away,
 And glad was I his smile to see,
 For this is what he brought to me:
 The schoolhouse from the Long Ago,
 The boys and girls I used to know,
 The little home on Sibley street
 Where all the youngsters used to meet
 The games we played, the things we did,
 The secret places where we hid,
 The pranks of all our youthful crew,
 The punishments we sometimes drew.
 A living book, he seemed to me,
 Fresh from the memory's bindery
 A book whose leaves were edged with gold.
 So many merry tales he told,
 He walked alone and yet I swear
 A troop of kindred folk were there,
 For back to us he seemed to call
 Our lost companions one and all.
 A hundred spirits danced about
 I heard them stir I heard them
 "Go out,
 And for an hour (it's true I don't
 I lived with them, a boy again,
 Who meets an old friend on the way
 Meets all the joys of yesterday,
 The laughter which he used to know,
 And all the charm of Long Ago

A denser, tougher wallboard that withstands moisture

It makes walls that last

WHEN you put up a Carey Board wall, ceiling, or partition, you are making a permanent improvement on your property. Carey Board lasts.

It is the only wallboard that has internal layers of asphalt to cement the plies together. Asphalt is a splendid insulator. It makes the board moisture-proof throughout. Most other boards are simply moistureproofed on the surface.

This asphalt keeps heat out in summer, and cold out in winter. It deadens sound. It makes walls that are crack-proof, chip-proof, and vermin-proof.

Carey Board makes beautiful walls. No paper or painting to pay for and renew.

Come in and see samples. We sell any quantity—from a carload to the large buyer to a single sheet to the householder who makes his own repairs and alterations.

Railroad Question Full Of Trouble for Congress

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
 (Editorial Board, Conneltsville, Pa.)
 (Copyrighted, 1923, by United Press)
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Had he lived, President Harding probably would have recommended to Congress enactment of a bill providing for compulsory consolidation of the country's railroads into a few great systems. That was the backbone of his plan for settling the railroad question, one of the most troublesome and the most interwoven with politics with which Congress will be called on to deal this winter.
 Now, however, the consolidation plan has been dropped. It is deemed unwise to press it at a short session, so crowded with other business and so dominated as this one promises to be by foes of consolidation, either compulsory or voluntary.
 There are strong indications now that Congress will smother the whole business and leave railroad for the next administration to deal with.
 That makes the coming session an opportune time for all the conflicting groups, Republicans, Democrats and Progressives, to do a little educational work in the country by putting forth their own particular ideas on handling railroads.
 Must Have a Program.
 In any event, if the administration permits the railroad question to be dropped, it must be ready with a program, otherwise it will be on the defensive against vicious attacks on the Esch-Cummins law by both Democrats and Progressive Republicans.
 If the administration does not present a complete railroad plan in substitution for the Esch-Cummins law it will be in the position of defending the law, a very dangerous proceeding from the point of view of those who want the labor vote.

 It also will limit the progressives ready with plans. La Follette probably will try to force consideration by demanding a revision of the present law's rate-making provisions and elimination of the Railroad Labor Board. But those changes would merely serve to start a fight, without promising to bring about a solution.
 La Follette will introduce a railroad bill, which probably will lie in committee all session.
 This transportation business is so appallingly complicated that very few members of Congress have even the slightest comprehension of it. It is too big for most of them. They assume a few facts about some angle of it and talk from that angle alone.
 There are very few men in Congress,
 if any who can view the question broadly enough and impartially enough to give it unbiased consideration.

Needs Fighting Heart.

Senator Cummins, chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, is probably more enamored with railroad information than any man in Congress. But Cummins is old and not so progressive in his viewpoint as once, and is interested deeply this year in being elected president pro tempore of the Senate.
 He lacks the aggressiveness to get things done, and whoever solves the railroad problem in Congress is going to need a good fighting heart. Policy to "take it" as well as to give it.

 The Interstate Commerce Commission is working out a consolidation plan that may be submitted to Congress this winter. It may be considered wiser to withhold it or to submit it without any recommendations for action.
 Meantime, nobody is satisfied with the present railroad law, and the result of that dissatisfaction is found

How to tell for sure —what oil your car needs

No. 11 in the series

Perhaps you own a Hudson Super Six

If you don't own a Hudson Super Six, cut this out and hand it to a friend who does

The Hudson Super Six engine is of the six cylinder, vertical, L-head, water cooled type, of 3 1/2" bore by 5" stroke.

It employs a highly developed splash circulating lubricating system. An elevated oil pump, plunger type,
draws oil from the reservoir in the crank-case and delivers it to the splash trough under No. 1 cylinder, in amounts exactly proportioned to the load requirements and controlled by the throttle opening.

The oil overflows from No. 1 splash trough to No. 2, from No. 2 to No. 3, and so on, thus maintaining a level in all troughs. From the sixth or last splash trough, the oil returns to the reservoir and is re-circulated. Lubrication of the entire working mechanism is dependent upon the splash created by plungers provided on the connecting rod caps, which are designed to distribute the oil from the splash troughs to all parts of the engine.

All Hudson models prior to 1923
were equipped with cast-iron pistons.
The 1923 models are, however, fitted with aluminum pistons of the constant clearance type.

Piston material and design have an important bearing on lubrication. The temperature at which the piston operates affects the formation of carbon deposits and the tendency of the engine to knock. The amount of oil passing into the combustion chamber also affects the formation of carbon deposits and depends to a large extent upon the piston design.

With the cast-iron pistons used in the models
prior to 1923, the piston temperatures are higher than with the aluminum pistons now used; therefore an exceptionally clean burning oil of the proper character should be used to minimize carbon deposit and reduce the tendency of the fuel to knock or "ping."

With the new aluminum pistons of the constant clearance type, the tendency toward carbon formation is reduced. The design is also such that passage of any excess of oil into the combustion chamber is prevented.

Consequently a heavier lubricating oil can be employed without inducing detrimental carbon formation.

The knocking or "pinging" often experienced with an overheated or badly carbonized engine is caused by the way in which the present day fuels burn. High compression, high temperatures and carbon deposits tend to increase the knocking tendency. Consequently it is desirable to reduce carbon formation in so far as is possible and this, therefore, has an important bearing on the selection of the correct oil for an engine.

It is vitally important that the lubricating oil used in an engine be of such character that it will be circulated by the lubricating system under all conditions. Where an elevated plunger pump is employed and where the oil is distributed by splashes, as in the Hudson car, the use in cold weather of an oil which flows slowly at low temperatures is important.

All of the above factors and many others are considered before determining the correct oil for the Hudson car.

For models previous to 1923 we advise the use of Gargyle Mobil Oil Arctic the year round.
For the 1923 models, Gargyle Mobil Oil "A"
should be used in summer and Gargyle Mobil Oil Arctic in winter.

next Friday,
we will tell you about the Correct Lubrication of another car. It may be yours.
Watch for it.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten?
The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promise of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an entire chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefitted, to those who are in need of it.
A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kinner's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it gives excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kinner's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it cures almost every ailment connected with the urinary system, corrects uric acid, corrects kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutral-izes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.
You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Postal Note. Address
Dr. Kinner & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., and enclose ten cents, also mention this paper. Large and medium sized bottles for sale at all drug stores.—

Masontown Man Is Charged With $18,000 Shortage

Accused of embezzling $18,000 from the First National Bank of Masontown, where he was formerly employed as a bookkeeper, J. Chasen Cover used 22 of Masontown, was arrested yesterday by J. G. Lawlor, deputy United States marshal and waived a hearing for court trial in five days.
In a complaint made before a United States commissioner, by George H. Smith, national bank examiner, it is alleged the money was embezzled February 7, 1923. According to the officer, Cover made false entries in the books of the bank and covered the shortage by other ma-nipulations. According to Felix B.
Snowden, assistant United States attorney, the loss to the bank was made good by Cover's father, a director.

My Experience is that
DR. CALDWELL'S
SYRUP PEPSIN
Is just what you need

This Will Make Digestion Easy

WHAT the dyspeptic needs is not soda and charcoal and breath perfume but a medicine that will help his bowels to move regularly, for dyspepsia and constipation are allied. If you will take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin systematically as the directions on the package call for you will soon digest your food properly and pass it out normally, and heartburn, belching, dizziness, nervousness and bloating will vanish. In time you can dispense with all medicines as Syrup Pepsin will have extended the intestinal and stomach muscles so they act for themselves. Mr. Lewis F. Schultz of Pleasanton, Ind., Mrs. Victor Knudsen of 3635 Bank St., Louisville, Ky., and hosts of others will verify this.

World Acclaims Success

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the prescription of a well-known physician of that name who practiced successfully for 47 years. It has been on the market thirty years and is today the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. Thousands of families have it in their medicine chest ready when any member shows signs of dyspepsia, constipation, torpid liver, sour stomach, biliousness, coated tongue, offensive breath, headache and such ailments that indicate deranged stomach and bowels. Many serious diseases are prevented by this timely aid.

Formula Plainly Stated

Have no hesitancy giving Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to anyone young or old. It is a mild, gentle laxative free from narcotics. It will not cramp or grip. The formula is on the package, a compound of Egyptian sassa with pepsin and simple aromatics. A bottle can be had at any drug store and averages less than a cent a dose. Economical for families and fully guaranteed. You will find it a great improvement in taste and action over castor oil, or "sandy" cathartics made from coal-tar that cause skin diseases, colored that loosens the teeth, kills in water or powder that concentrates the blood and dries the skin.

What You Want to Try It Free Before Buying

Send for a free trial bottle. Address to: Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, 517 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Conference of Governors May Bring Sensation

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—One of the big political sensations of the year likely will develop at President Coolidge's law enforcement conference with the governors on Saturday, political leaders predicted today.

Instead of the conference resulting in greater cooperation between the federal government and the states in enforcing dry laws, the President's friends fear it will be a signal for a general bombardment of the Administration.

The governors who come here Saturday will undoubtedly hear an echo of the citizenship conference in President Coolidge's address to them. While the President took no official notice of the citizenship conference except to shake hands with the delegates, he entertained a number of his leaders at informal lunches and dinners. One member, so understood, came away with a statement that the President would revise the speech he had prepared for the governors because of information he had gained in conversation with the drys.

The President already has been placed between two hot political fires on the dry question. Dry leaders say the challenge hung at the President by Governor Mitchell, who demanded the use of all federal agencies to put down the "whiskey rebellion" and the reply to the Pennsylvania governor by former Governor Allen of Kansas had created a situation in the dry ranks which Mr. Coolidge must face.

With Governor Al Smith of New York and Governor Ritchie of Maryland both ready to wets, coming to the conference with chips on their shoulders, and a row brewing in the dry ranks, all of political Washington is expecting something to develop from the meeting.

JAPAN'S BUDDHA ESCAPES QUAKE

Huge Bronze Idol of Kamakura
Still Intact.

IS SEVEN CENTURIES OLD

The great bronze Buddha of Kamakura, the escape of which from damage by the recent earthquake is reported to be the subject of much rejoicing among pious Buddhists of Japan, is one of the truly wonderful statues of the world, says a bulletin from the National Geographic society.

Huge as the statue is—fifty feet high in a sitting posture—it is faithfully proportioned and its features show a beauty and calm serenity that could hardly be excelled in a carefully modeled small image. This is seen to be an accomplishment indeed when it is realized that the eyes alone are four feet long. The eye balls are of solid gold, and a large jewel-like bow in the center of the forehead is made of a thirty-pound lump of silver.

Has Weathered Many Storms.

The Great Buddha, or the Daibutsu, as the Japanese call the image, has sat in its present position since 1252 and in its nearly seven centuries has looked out upon more than one great catastrophe. It has itself been endangered on several occasions. It was originally enclosed by a great temple structure, but this was destroyed by tidal waves in 1300 and again two years after Columbus discovered America. Since then the Daibutsu figure has sat unsheltered towering against its background of green trees and hills.

The Kamakura Daibutsu, like most bronze statues, consists only of a shell of metal and is hollow inside. A passageway leads to the interior from which one may climb on ladders to the level of the shoulders and may peep out through tiny windows.

Only in Japan can be found today a bronze statue to compare with the gigantic image at Kamakura. There is one other Daibutsu, at Nara, near Osaka, which is fifty-three feet high. This was the original colossal bronze Buddha of the islands and was cast in 740 A. D. Unlike the Kamakura statue it is still sheltered by a building.

Kamakura Once Japan's Capital.

The Christ of the Andes on the Chile-Argentine line, one of the largest bronzes outside Japan, is 26 feet high. The Colossus of Rhodes, perhaps the best known of ancient huge bronze statues, is believed to have been 60 to 100 feet high in a standing posture. An earthquake interestingly enough, brought about its destruction before the Christian era.

The Daibutsu is one of the few remaining symbols of the past greatness of Kamakura, now a modest fishing village and watering place, but once the real capital of Japan. There in 1192 Minamoto Yoritomo seized the governmental power and set himself up as the first shogun, leaving the emperor a mere puppet at Kyoto. The new capital grew rapidly and before many years had a population as great as Cleveland or St. Louis. It was burned by an invading army in 1333 but partly restored. After 1455, however, when it lost even minor government institutions, it declined rapidly.

Kamakura is only about a dozen miles south of Yokohama across the little peninsula that helps enclose Tokyo bay on the southeast. Being thus in easy reach of Yokohama and Tokyo and the seething plains nearby, the Great Buddha of Kamakura draws annually many thousands of pilgrims from the Buddhist portion of the population and is probably much better known than the slightly larger Daibutsu at Nara.

Do your house painting now! Paint garages, barns, porches, woodwork, everything exposed to the weather. Above all, use good paint.

Practical painters will tell you that Lawrence Paints are best for all painting purposes. High-grade ingredients, careful manufacture and over a quarter of a century experience are a few reasons why Lawrence Paints are so highly recommended.

Suffering of a Quarter Century Quickly Relieved by Nerv-Worth

West Virginian Tells Interesting Story.

"I suffered 25 years with stomach trouble and nervousness," said L. J. Ferguson, Route 2, Clarksville, W. Va., in a letter written some time ago. "I had pains in my stomach, back and side, and my nervousness was so bad that I could not sleep and I was tired in the morning when I got up as when I went to bed. I became restless and despondent. I had lost my appetite and spent lots of money but my food would not digest, leading druggists everywhere.

and I was always full of grief. Since taking Nerv-Worth my condition is a great deal better in every way. I am feeling good, sleeping fine, my food digests, and the pains are gone. My whole general condition is much improved and I certainly recommend Nerv-Worth to my friends." If it's stomach trouble you have, the above statement proves to you that Nerv-Worth is the medicine you want. Regot up as when I went to bed. I became restless and despondent. I had lost my appetite and spent lots of money but my food would not digest, leading druggists everywhere.

NO BACKSLIDING FOR THE LEGION, DECLARES OWSLEY

Constitution Must Be Upheld; Law and Order Will Be Kept and Preserved.

By United Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—There is no backsliding for the Legion away from the original purpose of our founders. The Constitution of the United States, which is the supreme law of the land, must and will be upheld and defended by you. Law and order will be kept and preserved.

With those words, Alvin Owsley, retiring national commander of the American Legion, pointed out the path of duty for the Legionnaires in his farewell address yesterday before this national convention of the Legion.

"We need of the American Legion recognize our warring pledge to our country's future in perfect confidence that, having helped save her materially, America will be spiritually redeemed," he said.

"At this hour, laden with whispers of impending danger, you with your patriotic hearts must respond. The voice of America rings out in strong appeal to you as perhaps never before in all her history.

"We must be firm of purpose, willing to sacrifice and ever watchful in times of peace for the welfare of the country for which we fought in war."

Turning to the administration of the Legion's affairs during the past year, the retiring commander said:

"I bring to you today a message filled with enthusiasm; a statement of accomplishment by posts, departments and the national organization.

"A year ago, as the newly elected commander, I then committed the Legion under my leadership to four comprehensive principles of endeavor: hospitalization, rehabilitation, advanced composition and Americanization."

"These terms have had a real and lasting meaning to our Legion this year, and the efforts of all Legionnaires, I believe, have been bent toward accomplishment of this four-fold program.

"The reports of our department heads appear to me to speak of a consistent progress toward a better state for our sick and disabled comrades; a justifiable prediction of the passage of the adjusted compensation bill by the next Congress and the inauguration of a patriotic American discussion and leadership on matters of national education; the announcement of the Legion's advocacy of an international conference for the limitation of armament, and the stamping of the Legion in its true light before the nation as an American institution whose creed and purpose are so truly expressed in the familiar term, 'Service for God and Country.'

"To my mind one other forward stride should now be our desire and will. Our immense treasure of national resources must not be wasted away in prodigal expenditure for individuals. Let us inaugurate and freely support an extensive program for the conservation of our natural resources."

PLAN TO HARNESS VESUVIUS

Italy Would Direct Flow of Lava and Utilize Heat of the Big Volcano.

In the future great volcanoes can throw out molten lava and lava and attract no more attention than the passing of a motor car. If plans now being considered by scientists of Italy are carried out.

After the glancing accomplishments of the engineers in the World War such a scheme does not sound impossible and plans are being seriously considered to tunnel mountains known to be dangerous in such a manner that a sudden volcanic activity will only result in the gas and lava being carried away from settled sections and valuable property.

Especially are such plans being worked out for Etna and Vesuvius, the two most destructive volcanoes.

And with the plan goes another providing for harnessing the heat for industrial purposes.

Premier Mussolini has been investigating the plan and now, it is said, no obstacle remains except the expense. It is hoped that some way may be found whereby Italy will be relieved from dependence upon the outside world for fuel and the power that fuel produces.

If experimental boring is tried it will probably be on Etna, because that volcano, being on an island, can do less damage than Vesuvius if stirred to unusual activity by man's efforts.

Cutting tunnels through the mountain side would be simple in its earlier stages, and would become complicated only when the heat, on approach to the eternal fires, became unendurable to the workers. Explosives might do the rest.

Squeezed Out of It.

CANNED MUSIC IN YUCATAN

Demand for American Talking Machines Is Great, Says Our Consul at Progress.

The talking machine is as popular in Yucatan as in the United States, according to a report to the Department of Commerce from O. G. Marsh, United States Consul at Progress.

Small, cheap instruments cheer the Indian hut, ordinary machines are found in middle-class homes, and the most elaborate cabinet styles grace the mansions of the wealthy. Perhaps no other modern invention has done more to soothe these homes. An enterprising local dealer has popularized and capitalized this idea in a phrase: "How happy is the home that has its phonograph."

The American machine has monopolized the market. Old styles with horn have had an extensive sale, but cabinet designs are preferred by most customers. A few portable instruments have been sold.

Practically all orders have been placed by importers direct with factories on factory-price quotations, railway and steamship freight and marine insurance being attended to by American agents of importers or by freight forwarders at American ports.

The largest importer and the one who has done a large part of the local business has purchased on open credit. Other firms have been, and will have to be dealt with in accordance with their financial standing and credit rating. The most recent shipment, by a manufacturer just entering the Yucatan market, was on a documentary against payment basis.

Almost all records sold in Yucatan are of well-known American makes. The most popular have been American, for jazz and Latin-American songs and dance music. The principal importers have dealt with manufacturers of records on the same basis as with makers of phonographs, but a considerable number of records enter in a manner difficult to trace and are sold at varying prices by small dealers.

THIS MADE TRIP BETTER

Fall of the Big Brute's Suits Greatly Reduced the Number of Passengers Very Much.

"They got on the train together—a gruff, pink-cheeked giant of a know-it-all husband. He didn't help her up the steps. To his credit it must be admitted that he was carrying their heavy suitcase—though maybe due to his absent-mindedness or the presence of a quart inside. He lifted the suitcase to put it on the steel luggage rack overhead. And he grunted that he knew what he was doing when she suggested a fear that the heavy suitcase might break down the rack. She started to insist, but he snarled, cutting her off. So they settled in their day-coach seats.

The little woman uncomfortably kept glancing up at the rack and unconsciously fingering her shoulder as if preparing it for a blow. Again she ventured, "Dear I'm afraid—"

"Mind your own business," he told her.

"Bang! The words were no sooner out of his mouth than down came the suitcase. It struck squarely on his head, sending him into a dizzy fall. The rest of the journey was pleasant for the other passengers—Hawatha (Kus) World.

A Mean Statement.
As Lawyer Flubduf stepped out of the elevator a man in the corridor fainted. The attorney assisted the man to the sidewalk, called a taxi and helped him in. The unknown showed every sign of collapse. Of course, a crowd gathered.

Somebody asked: "Is that a client of Flubduf's?"

And somebody answered: "I guess so."

"What made him collapse like that?"

"Oh, Flubduf probably told him the amount of the fee."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

HEALTH LAWS AID CHILDREN

Physical Education Made Compulsory in Some States.

LIST OF NEW ACTS PASSED

New York led in health legislation adopted during the session of recent months of the lawmakers of fourteen states, according to James A. Tobey of the National Health Council. The greater number of the measures in this state aside from purely local measures, unbranded foods and drugs, tuberculosis, child welfare and municipal health.

Of the measures enacted into law those dealing with municipal health and treatment of tuberculosis were most numerous, aside from a generally favorable enactment of state measures conforming to the provisions of the federal Sheppard-Towner maternity act. New statutes dealing with child health are being closely studied by officials of the American Child Health association, which, under the presidency of Herbert Hoover has been acting as a clearing house for information about improved methods of child health. Several of these new laws have swollen the number of states which make physical education and inspection of children in the public school compulsory.

Laws in Other States
What some of the states did in legislation affecting child health is summarized briefly in the following:

Arizona—Amended laws of 1917 and created a child welfare board to safeguard interests of minor children of widowed or deserted mothers. Also increased power of state board of health to improve milk supply through inspection of dairy cattle.

California—Passed law to improve condition of concentrated milk.

Connecticut—Strengthened laws providing for physical condition and inspection of health in public schools. Also law to improve milk supply.

Iowa—Passed law providing for physical education and health training in public schools. Passed measures for playgrounds. Also made sale of "milk" illegal.

Minnesota—Passed law for physical and health education in public schools and providing for exercise in the subjects in all state "teaching" training schools and colleges. Increased the power of state board of health over infant houses and provided for prevention of infant blindness.

Montana—Provided for special building for treatment of child victims of tuberculosis in state sanatorium.

School Law
Nebraska—Revised and strengthened health law regarding physical examination of school children by teachers.

North Dakota—Strengthened powers of state health department.

Ohio—Passed law for physical education in public schools.

South Carolina—Passed law for teaching of hygiene in the public schools.

Tennessee—Provided for physical education in public schools.

Wisconsin—Made good at least in health laws and passed bill for physical education in schools as well as courses for teacher training school. Also passed bill seeking to prevent infant blindness and to reduce infant mortality.

Washington—Provided for teaching of hygiene and physical education in all teacher training schools and colleges.

FINDS MASTODON ON FARM

Farmer Near Belleville, Ill., Uncovers Giant Skeleton

Excavation of a skeleton believed to be that of a mastodon, has been started on the farm of Julius Reuss near Belleville, Ill.

The University of Illinois has been notified and probably will send expert anthropologists to superintend the completion of the task of the animal. The skeleton is said to be of an adult male, and is of an unusual size. It was found in the middle of a field. The find was about 40 feet from the Reuss residence. It is believed the mastodon existed 10,000 years ago.

SEES ODD SNAKE IN KANSAS

Farmer Reports Being Chased by Strange Reptile

A monstrous snake, strange to the state of Kansas, chased Elmer Gorsuch, truck farmer, from his watermelon field, near Concordia, Kans., he asserted. Chased him out not only once but twice and meted out the same treatment to his two Gersuch boys.

As Mr. Gorsuch entered the field the snake struck at him without warning. He dodged and the snake went after him until he left the field. The reptile is described as being five or six feet long, body as thick as a large man's arm, head shaped like that of a cobra, and Mr. Gorsuch asserts it has plenty of speed too. To date the snake has not been captured. Killed there are no volunteers for the job.

"No Divorce!" Is Dictum of Countess of Craven To Her Eloping Mate And Inamorata

THE FARE OF CRAVEN AND LADY CATHART ON BOARD SHIP BOUND FOR SOUTH AFRICA, ABOVE THE COUNTESS OF CRAVEN.

LONDON—Grounds for divorce? Oh, yes, there's no question but the countess of Craven, then, for did not her husband the young Earl of Craven, elope recently with Lady Vera, Countess Cathart, quite openly and with the whole world looking on?

In fact ship photographers were surprised to find the countess quite willing to pose for their cameras on board the boat in which they sailed for South Africa.

But even this broad hint has failed to move the Countess of Craven, who neglects to file suit for divorce in London, to mean that she consents to a divorce. The countess' freedom and her illicit romance forever unhallowed by the marriage ceremony.

ARE YOU NERVOUS?

Maybe There is a Cause For It that You Can Correct.

Man who suffers from backache and weak kidneys are usually irritable, fretful and nervous. Not only does constant backache get on the nerves, but bad kidneys fail to eliminate all the uric acid from the system and uric acid irritates the nerves, keeping one "on edge" and causing rheumatic, neuritic pains. When suffering so, Dr. Cass's Kidney Pills will relieve you so well, you can't complain that made you feel miserable all over. I had terrible backaches that felt as though a sharp knife were being plunged into the flesh. It was difficult to do my housework. I had severe headaches that affected my nerves and I was greatly distressed. My kidneys were singular. Dr. Cass's Kidney Pills from Carter's Drug Store relieved me. I am in my back and put my kidneys in a normal condition.

At the Theatres

The Paramount

"BLINKY" showing today at this theatre, presents that Gibson in one of the most thrilling roles of his screen career.

"Blinky": A fine name for a hero! And the son of a retired army man, who had earned the nickname of "New Meat" during his army days. Blinky's society mother wanted him to have a commission because all the society boys were getting one. He got it, but it wasn't a sword chair post. Blinky was drafted to the fighting 143rd Cavalry down on the Mexican border. Contemplate the situation. He had never ridden a horse, had never had a gun in his hands, but he did have a little army experience. He had been a member of the Boy Scouts! Except for the "razing" he daily received from his companions, all went well until he was assigned to guard duty. Then some liquor smugglers took his gun and glasses away from him and sent him back to headquarters in disgrace. It looked tough for Blinky until the major's daughter was kidnapped, and for her Blinky would have crossed the Sox with a smile. All the rest of the border patrol went out to search for her with army tactics, but it took Blinky's Boy Scout experience to finally find her and find himself.

Wednesday and Thursday, Lon Chaney will be seen in "The Shock."

"THE CHRISTIAN," Maurice Tourneur's mammoth production, which opened yesterday at this theatre for a three day attraction, is adapted from the famous novel by Sir Hall Caine.

The story of "The Christian" is one of the best known in modern fiction. John Storm, a young New Yorker in love with Glory Quaple, becomes a Christian Socialist and he determines to live as Christ would have him on earth. He renounces his love, and Glory goes to London to become a nurse. Later going on the stage and becoming a popular star. Storm enters a monastery, but unable to overcome his love for Glory, renounces his vows. He later establishes a mission in London, and in a religious frenzy goes to Glory, determined to kill her. Her love for him causes him to forego his purpose and he wanders out into Trafalgar Square where he is mobbed by a crowd which has been misled by an enemy of Storm's into believing that he had prophesied the end of the world for midnight.

Director Tourneur has made a great dramatic and thrilling photoplay from Hall Caine's story—one that goes straight to the heart. The beauty of many of the scenes, in composition, lighting and photography, is unique in the development of pictures and reveal why Mr. Tourneur is regarded as an artist in this new craft. The acting is intelligent and effective as the direction. Richard Dix, Jane Bush and other principals are bound to emerge from the screening of "The Christian" with new acting laurels.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Quickly and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for sure results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drug store, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The Orpheum

"ONE EXCITING NIGHT," D. W. Griffith's new picture, on view today and tomorrow at this theatre, contains about all the ingredients plus a storm scene.

In this newest of Griffith films, a United Artists Corporation release, the great director gives five of the six elements that go to make up effective mystery—secreted treasure, personal disappearance, puzzling homicide, hidden identity, and the return of the avenging spirit. And with it all he gives the spectator an altogether marvellous amusement in the way of actual entertainment.

There is as sweet and dainty a love story as ever was filmed; there is mystery galore—mystery till the audience sits breathless—and then comes relief from the suspense in the form of the most delightful and laughter-provoking comedy from Romeo Washington, a wonderful black-face character who finds himself torn between love of a dusky maid and fear of the peering eyes and stealthy fingers that creep in and out and are seen everywhere.

But there is entertainment—a full two hours of it. There is a missing and much sought article containing half a million dollars in bills that lie for a time submerged in a floor barrel in the kitchen while the anonymous Romeo makes love to the choice of his heart. And all the time there is upmost in the minds of everybody the query—"Who murdered Johnson?"

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Charles Ray will be seen in "A Tallor Made Man."

WOMEN SUFFER

from constipation and biliousness, but if at the slightest sign of any derangement of the bowels, they would take a dose of Laxogen Herb Tablets—a simple herbal remedy—these would be no complaining about sick headache, backache, or feeling weak, tired, or languid all the time. Many New Weaves, Elegant Patterns

Old Materials Predominate, Though Offered Under
New Names.

The matter of textiles in this year of the utmost importance, asserts a fashion writer in the New York Times. The weaves are new and many, the patterns attractive. Some that have new names are but old materials of proven virtues. The desire of most women is for softness of texture, for luxury in broadness—silk, wool or mohair. Many of the designs belong to the elegance of toilets in earlier days and the color combinations shown are both subtle and daring.

The advance of art in the looms is evident in some of the latest fabrics. Kashas, of which so much is promised, is the euphonious name of our old friend camel's hair—the unbreakable, long haired kind. There was never a dress material more refined, more graceful and altogether satisfactory—more distinctly the cloth for fashioning a lady's gown. It comes now in hues such as we never dreamed of in its original manufacture. Kashas is especially liked for one-piece gowns, the coat dress or the draped model. It appears in some of the handsomest styles for street wear and for indoors. Its duff softness yielding to graceful, draped lines.

Dress of Black Kashas Cloth, Trimmed With Vivid Colored Embroidery.

Departing from plain colors, several striking gowns of kashas have been received by a prominent New York couturier. One is done in cinnamon brown, of which the upper part of the dress is made, down to the line of the hip. The bodice has slight ruffles at the neck and straight, wide-length sleeves. The waist, unbelted, hangs away in an easy jacket effect. The skirt, straight and narrow, has a border more than knee depth of the cloth woven in a bold pattern combining the Greek key and Egyptian characters, in brilliant orange, brown and grey. A strip of this gaudy border is sewn across the back of the neck, like a shallow sailor collar. The composition is bold, but no crudeness is evident and the result is fetching.

Matelasse is the original material beloved of our grandmothers, and is therefore an absolute novelty to the present generation. It is a brocade in wool or silk of fine weave, richness and dignity. It is happily adapted to the latest styles for afternoon, to be trimmed with fur or worn with a fur scarf. Matelasse will be shown in some Russian tunics and in soft-line wraps. The two-tone character of the cloth gives scope for numerous color combinations, some of which are very beautiful. Marigold and heath, brown and orange, tan and grey, green and grey, green and blue are among the most charming. Polka dots, stripes and duveti patches, a fine variety of duveti patches, the two-sided crepe, chamois, poplin and velvet, for which a tremendous vogue is predicted.

Every woman knows the flustering quality of a velvet gown, especially in black, for daytime or evening, and almost any sort of fresh fashioned velvet gives the wearer a dressy appearance. A new velvet is the velvet pill, having no nap, and may be cut either way. The browns from Havana to seal are much liked for coat dresses and chamois, sun and sea, successfully trimmed with fur or embroidery. Velvets in evening colors are being shown in most enchanting shades—blue green, apple green, pea green, sapphire, cobalt blue, hydrangea, hyacinth, orange, amber, gold, flame, rose, mahogany, coral, apricot, orchid, violet, mauve.

For the Small Girl.

Many women enjoy cross-stitching as a pastime, and little dresses for very small girls stamped with exceedingly good design to be worked in red and blue are well worth the time expended upon them.

On Dark Blue Gowns.

For fall a most attractive child's dress is of dark blue crepe de chine, with touches of cross-stitching across the shoulders of the raglan sleeves.

Her Hopes At Last Realized, States Mrs. Cirba.

MRS. JOHN CIRBA.

"My hopes of regaining my health have at last been fully realized," declared Mrs. John Cirba, esteemed resident of 217 Lincoln St., Olyphant, Pa.

"Years of suffering from stomach trouble with poor appetite, dizziness, palpitation, fainting spells, nervousness and sleeplessness had weakened me so I couldn't even walk up stairs. 'Soon after starting on Tanlac, I was eating almost everything and sleeping fine. Every trouble is gone now, and I am very happy over my health, strength and energy.'"

"Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold."

Machine Embroidered Velvets in Limelight

Machine embroidered velvets are very good fall materials and are used for both coats and dresses, sometimes for sleeves and again for the entire garment, observes a Paris fashion writer in the New York Tribune. Blanche and Wilmet are showing some wonderful embroidered silks and satins for autumn done in designs that are inspired by old Persian miniatures.

Alt-over braided woolen materials are also being used, and embroidered fur is one of the fancies for fall. Philippe or Gaston show a full circle cape of nutria embroidered on collar and edges with Persian designs in orange, red and green.

Colors for fall appear to be tete de negre brown, empire green, dark blue and black. Embroidered silks are very much less in vogue than they have been. Machine embroidered fabrics have largely replaced them.

Autumn Brown, Color for Outdoor Apparel

A prominent merchant in the East makes the statement that "the Parisians live to defeat age and use all the arts of massage, powder and paint, whereas the American woman is content to let nature take its course, but, at the same time, aids nature by youth ful action."

Autumn is the great brown period in nature and it holds true in the apparel for outdoors. The browns lead in the weaves and cloths for knickers, suits and footgear, and boots and oxfords in brown have a decided place in the scheme of women's outdoor dress.

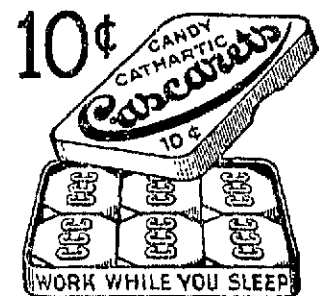

Voices Pictures.

So that future generations might be able to compare the quality of her song with that of voices yet unheard, Melba consented to sing into Professor Low's audiometer, an instrument which photographs the waves of sound as they come from the singer's lips. This photograph is quite different from that of any other voice ever recorded. No other has had anything resembling the same variation combined with the same regularity. It is full of harmonies and infinitesimal variations in the wave, but these waves are perfect in regularity. This might account for its carrying power, by superimposition, since it is not a loud voice in the ordinary sense.

Cinnamon and Gold.
Cinnamon is a color enjoying a wide vogue at present. It combines well with certain shades of green and with all the golds. A favorite trimming is a ribbon-like streamer of plaided georgette in gold against the cinnamon background. Several of these streamers being seen on a gown.
